STEWART MARSHALL GULLEY

Motivational Speaker, Author and Playwright is better known as the Renaissance Man of the 21st Century. He is also co-author and best selling author of Wake Up and Live (Finding Your Personal Freedom) along with Dr. Wayne Dyer, Deepak Chopra and Mark Victor Hansen.

Stewart has been the most hidden inspirational speaker around and now he's soaring like an eagle. His many additional talents ranging from a teacher in the public school system, cosmetology instructor, storyteller, artist, real estate agent, insurance agent, auctioneer and cook are only a touch of his many gifts within. He is better known for his motivating talks and sharing inspiration with the homeless and the wealthy. Surviving from residing in a condemned building to a successful salon which was one of seven, he now only writes and speaks. His collection of over eleven books and plays are only a drop in the bucket of his never ending talents. A phenomenal kid at age 7, he created a voting poll for children in the neighborhood to vote for the 44th President of the United States, which was during the Kennedy vs. Nixon election. Being naturally gifted he also wrote and directed plays at age 12 with an outstanding cast that watched him in amazement.

Explaining the dark sides of his life, he uplifts you as he allows the past to be the past while it plays as an old movie in the archives. Using a combination of street sense, business sense and common sense, you are in store for a treat. Many of his fans have said, "You're nothing but a genius and you should have been a comedian." One of his favorite quotes from over 8,500 he has written is, "Dreams do come true when you work on them." Who is Stewart Marshall Gulley? If you only knew!

A BRIEF OVERVIEW OF POWER-PACKED KEYNOTE SPEECHES

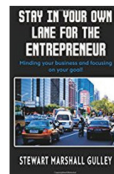

A. Stay in Your Own Lane – An uplifting message that builds character and forces you to drive full speed, letting you know you can achieve anything if you stay in your own lane.

B. Buck Naked – This speech uses (butt naked) as a metaphor to strip yourself of all the things others want you to be and become who you were meant to be, to reach your goal.

C. Who In the Hell is They – A speech that discusses the "they" in our life that has kept us from reaching our goals. One wrong "they" can cost us our career or family.

D. How to Get Over a Past Relationship Faster than You Think – Not understanding the severity of a breakup can prevent you from moving ahead, not realizing that the so-called significant other has moved on. Using the analogy of taking the fish out of the water and allowing it to not breathe can be an enlightening message.

SELF-HELP BOOKS

Stay In Your Own Lane A book with nuggets of direction, utilizing several metaphors to build confidence. Reading it can restore your lost desires, goals and bring them back to your heart knowing that with focus, you can accomplish anything if you stay in your own lane.

BUCK NAKED
"Buck Naked" (Butt Naked). This book deals with stripping off the burdensome cares that a marketing society tries to impose on you. You've been conditioned to think you were someone else. Unfortunately someone has covered you up with their own personal desires that stopped you from breathing on your own. Getting butt naked can be lots of fun especially when it's time to get dressed with what really makes you happy and becoming the real you.

It Started at 2, Not 2:15
Finally, although many books target certain groups; this book fits all. Somewhere in life, regardless of your status, you will be judged upon your promptness; whether it's your job, friends, new acquaintances or appointments. This type of book should be read by all employees, every adult, as well as children. Someone is depending on us at a certain time and they would not like to be disappointed.

WHO IN THE HELL IS THEY?
One of the most dangerous words used is "they." It has caused many people to lose focus on their dream only because of what "they said." This book encourages you to listen to your heart and not worry about "they." Only listen to wise counsel to pursue your dream.

WORDS from the 21 Century Shakespearean Poet
Every now and then something spiritually divine happens to a person and that inspiration must be shared. In 2007, I sat down to write what I believed to be divinely inspired Shakespearean quotes and eleven years later, I found the 21-page handwritten manuscript and tears rolled down my eyes because of the words that were written. If you knew my background, it would be totally impossible. Experience the journey with me.

NOVELS/ NOVELETTES

Eric, the Last Child
Is a shocking and sensual novel that makes you wonder which part of life is real? Never has so much happened in such a small town that features faith and the love of one child, a corrupt court system that never ends; while an elderly woman named Esther Wigglesworth threads her entire life through this chilling mystery filled with hatred, malice, and sexual fantasies.

High Heels And Bad Feet
Margaret Johnston, a widow and a mother of three, finds herself struggling to make ends meet to support her family. When she was young, her large feet were constantly forced into small shoes which caused major damage. Unable to work, after the death of her husband, she needs help and meets Tyrone who seems to be the love of her new life, not realizing his unknowingly dark secret.

Love Should Have Brought You Home Last Night
A Pastor attends a picnic and his world turns into a twilight zone. After being tricked by a sexual diva, he misses a day of life. Being drugged, he experiences the most traumatic adventure of his life as he enters a time zone where he's 20 years behind. This book is not suitable for children and will take you to the edge as an adult.

CHILDREN'S BOOKS

HIS EYE IS ON THE SPARROW- EXCLUSIVE/EXTRA LARGE PRINT (Also small print): Although this book is written for children, adults find it quite interesting and entertaining for everyday life. It's a story of love, obedience and faith among a group of animals who hold weekly meetings to discuss how they can help the people living in the neighborhood. Because of disobedience, Spicy Sparrow enters a tragic situation in which all the animals learn from. This book is a special edition that includes a Comprehension Test along with a Coloring Book of the animals. Great gift for that special kid.

The Witch that Got a Miracle It's a loving story of a witch who lived in the forest in which she was visited by three children. Upon many return visits, the children realized that the witch had disappeared. They eventually learned the meaning of fruits and vegetables and how they are important to living well.

The Elephant and the Mouse This is a heart-felt story of how the two became the best of friends after a fire occurred in a traveling circus. Although both were not aware of their talents, they began to think quickly of how they could help one another. This story shows how if we look after one another, we would be surprised how showing kindness can produce a wonderful outcome in our life.
